

Bio Suisse

Bio Suisse is the owner of the registered trademark “Bud”. Its standards under private law go beyond the minimum legal requirements (Regulation (EU) 2018/848 or equivalent) in key respects. Certification in accordance with the Bio Suisse standards can also be awarded to enterprises outside Switzerland (BIOSUISSE ORGANIC certification) that meet the required standards and wish to supply their products to Switzerland.

BIOSUISSE ORGANIC certification

The basis for certification in accordance with the Bio Suisse standards outside Switzerland is a valid organic certification equivalent to the Swiss Ordinance on Organic Farming (such as Regulation (EU) 2018/848 or equivalent). In addition, an importer for the products in Switzerland must be generally be present and indicated. This importer bears the costs of the BIOSUISSE ORGANIC certification.

International Certification Bio Suisse AG (ICB AG), the subsidiary of Bio Suisse, carries out the BIOSUISSE ORGANIC certification. You can find detailed information at: www.icbag.ch.

Procedure

DIO offers a BIOSUISSE ORGANIC inspection together with the regular organic inspection (according to (EU) 2018/848 or equivalent). Please contact us if you would like a BIOSUISSE ORGANIC inspection in addition to the organic inspection. We will be happy to help you with any questions.

Correct use of the logo

Logo	Description of the permitted use
	BIOSUISSE ORGANIC certified products abroad (but not in consumer packaging) may be labeled with this logo for further marketing in Switzerland. The operation may also use the logo for its communication on successful certification in accordance with the Bio Suisse standards.
	This Bio Suisse association logo is generally reserved for organic farms in Switzerland. However, an inspection body may also use this logo for advertising purposes (e.g. on the homepage) after successfully concluding a contract with a Bio Suisse certification body such as ICB AG. This logo refers to the “Service of inspections in accordance with the Bio Suisse standards”, the standard owner Bio Suisse and the Bio Suisse standards.
